TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

At 10 A.M. on March 4, 1983, Thomas Ruddy, Martin F. Lawler and members of the Carbondale Historical Society (Joseph J. Pascoe, S. Robert Powell and Susan B. Stephens) visited Ben Franklin High School for the purpose of determining if there are in said building any objects that the Carbondale Historical is interested in adding to its collections.

During that visit, the Carbondale Historical Society identified the following objects in Ben Franklin High School that it would like to add to its collections:

1. ten door handles, all with "CHS" monogram
2. the metal plaque (in the entrance hall) in memory of the students of Carbondale High School who were killed in World War I
3. the marble plaque (in the entrance hall) on which the names of the directors and officers of the school, in 1916-1917, are given
4. the chandelier in the auditorium
5. the six unbroken glass light fixtures in the halls and stairwells
6. the two straight back chairs in the former library storage room
7. the bookcase and desk in Room 14
8. the glass display case in Room 18
9. the public address system in the principal's office
10. all of the seats in the auditorium
